

E-NEWSLETTER

January 2017

Dear Readers,

Please welcome the latest issue of the E-newsletter of the Faculty of Economics and Social Sciences of the Szent István University. By publishing a monthly newsletter, we wish to share the most important events and activities of the Faculty in each month and inform you about the coming events. On behalf of the editors, we hope that you will enjoy it. Please feel free to share news and photos with us about the events by sending them to the International Office.

First of all, happy new year to everyone! January has been an important month since many of the students took their exams to finish the fall semester.

January has also been important for those Hungarians who are interested in our Faculty and wish to apply for any of our courses, because they need to submit their application package until 15 February. To help them make decision, we organized 4 events during the month when they could visit our Faculty and learn more about our courses and the life on campus.

The most important event, called Education Fair 2017, also took place in Budapest in January, where we advertised our courses to potential applicants.

The latest issue of the university magazine was also released with an interview with Mariam Hamida, 2nd year master student. We are really proud of her!

In January, two scholarship programs opened the application period, so thousands of young people are searching for potential universities and completing their application packages at these moments. We hope many of them will choose GTK!

Practical information:

- 30 January – 5 February registration week, when students have to register for the semester and the subjects.
- Spring semester will start on 6 February.

Please keep the deadlines and check the <http://gtk.sziu.hu/en/current-students/schedule-20162017-spring> link for the spring semester schedules.

Please also help the work of the international office and the work of the study officers by visiting them in office hours.

Good luck for the spring semester! Hopefully the weather is getting warmer and warmer! ☺
