November 2018

Dear Readers,

Please welcome the latest issue of the E-newsletter of the Faculty of Economics and Social Sciences of the Szent István University. By publishing this newsletter, we wish to share the most important events and activities of the Faculty in each month and inform you about the coming events. On behalf of the editors, we hope that you will enjoy it. Please feel free to share news and photos with us about the events by sending them to the International Office.

“Whom we are proud of” international students’ workshop

On 8th November an international student workshop was organised in the framework of celebrating the Hungarian Science -2018 program series with the title of “Whom we are proud of”, where students delivered presentations about famous researchers, scientists, politicians, singers, etc. coming from their countries.

We had 12 very interesting and thought-provoking presentations from 12 students coming from 10 different countries (Kyrgyzstan, Palestine, Ghana, Kenya, India, Kazakhstan, Jordan, Russia, Indonesia and Pakistan). The program gave us the chance to virtually travel to different countries and discover a small slice of their culture.

5th VUA YOUTH annual scientific student conference

The 5th VUA YOUTH annual scientific student conference was held on 20th November in cooperation with the Visegrad University Association. The conference was organized for bachelor, master and PhD students. The conference provided platform for young researchers to meet their counterparts and build new professional relationship.

Visiting lecturer

On 23rd November Dr. Shahira S. Fahmy the Professor of Journalism at the University of Arizona and a Visiting Professor at the American University in Cairo, Egypt gave her presentation on "The age of terrorism media: the visual narratives of the Islamic State group's "Dabiq" magazine."
